

Furnace operator

Perlite Canada, the most important perlite and vermiculite producer in Canada is searching for employees to fill furnace operator positions, at its St-Pacome facility.

The furnace operator's main responsibility is the efficient and optimal operation of furnaces according to established procedures.

As part of his duties, the operator must ensure that production sequences are respected based on the customer orders.

The operator must be able to drive a forklift and must assist the bagger with bag supply.

The skills required for the position are acquired through training provided internally. Mechanical skills or knowledge are assets for this position.

Perlite Canada offers a competitive salary, benefits and a Group RRSR retirement plan with employer participation.

You are a dynamic, autonomous and resourceful person and you want to join a growing company, send your resume.