

Maintenance technician

Perlite Canada, the most important perlite and vermiculite producer in Canada is searching for a maintenance technician, at its Lachine facility.

Under the supervision of the Plant Director, the technician must ensure the general preventive maintenance of the transformation equipment. He must assume the maintenance and proceed with the part replacement of the equipment, as well as document the work accomplished.

The technician must actively plan the preparation and execution of major repairs.

The ideal candidate will have a college diploma or Professional studies diploma in electromechanics or related fields. He will have 2-3 years experience in a similar position.

Any experience with welding is a excellent asset.

Perlite Canada offers a competitive salary, benefits and a Group RRSR retirement plan with employer participation.

You are a dynamic, autonomous and resourceful person and you want to join a growing company, send your resume.